

The PPL Pay Crisis Deepens

Most Home Care Workers Still Unpaid After Two Pay Cycles

Last week, a Caring Majority Rising survey found 70% of CDPAP home care workers were left unpaid on their first pay cycle with PPL. This week, the crisis has deepened. A new CMR survey reveals that more than half of workers are still failing to receive accurate paychecks from the company. Contrary to DOH claims, none of our respondents reported being paid by PPL on a daily basis.

57% of CDPAP Workers Didn't Get Paid on Their 2nd Pay Day

"Were you or your staff paid by PPL on or around your 2nd pay day (April 17)?"

Many Workers Still Can't Clock In with PPL

"Are you or your staff able to clock in and out with PPL?"

58% of Workers Were Paid Inaccurately

"If you were paid, was payment accurate to the hours worked?"

Consumers are Starting to Pay Staff Out of Their Own Savings

11% of consumers reported needing to pay staff out of pocket this week

Workers are Going Without Basic Needs

"If you weren't paid last week, what if anything did you have to go without?"

Methodology

Caring Majority Rising conducted an online survey of CDPAP consumers and workers from April 17-21, 2025. 477 respondents replied to the survey, 81% of which were Personal Assistants.
